This acquisition by the DNR would expand and improve the existing Keweenaw Tip Recreation Area and permanently protect this land for all citizens and visitors regardless of income and socioeconomic status. It would protect and help restore a mosaic of native northern Great Lakes habitats that is home to many native species and is part of a hemispheric migratory corridor.
It is a place for people to hunt, fish and camp, trail ride on ATV and snowmobiles, kayak and canoe and for hiking, biking, and forging. It is part of the 1842 Ceded Territory and keeping it in the public trust for all to use and enjoy honors the terms of that treaty.
It protects the water quality of the Montreal River, a tributary of Lake Superior, and reduces the impact of fragmentation and development.
This land and the motorized trail system is vitally important for the tourism economy of Keweenaw County.
